Fire Capt. J. R. Winters, past master of the Masonic Lodge, and Murray Little, of Lomita, will leave today for San Francisco where they are to attend the convention of the Masonic Grand Lodge of California. New officers will be installed, according to Capt. Winters, in addition to the handling of new business by the delegates. Under normal conditions, Winters said, this convention would last for several days, but an attempt will be made by these heads to finish all business within one day.

Long Beach CG Separation Unit At Top Of List

Coast Guard Separation Center, No. 11, in Long Beach Calif., today announced that reports on the demobilization of Coast Guard personnel throughout the country places the local center at the top of the list with the highest daily average of discharges. Men and women of the Coast Guard are now being released here at the rate of 100 a day. From V-J Day to the end of last week the Coast Guard has maintained a high nationwide average on its demobilization program, proportionate to the strength of this branch of the service. Approximately 15,000 Coast Guard personnel are scheduled for release through the Long Beach center within the next six months. Of this figure 2,032 have already been discharged as of yesterday, including SPARS and officers.

Australia Aided Americans With Food and Fabrics

REV. R. J. MENMUIR

United States forces in the Pacific theatres of war, the Rev. Ronald J. Menmuir, new pastor of First Christian Church, told members of the Torrance Lions Club at its meeting Tuesday noon in the Civic Auditorium.

The Rev. Mr. Menmuir, introduced by Frederick Cook, recently returned from a trip to Australia, his native country, made as a merchant seaman. He said that the fact that most of the fabrics produced on the island went into American uniforms caused a program of clothing rationing such as no American could imagine. "Can you see yourself with 62 points allowed for clothing a year, paying 30 points for a suit, 25 points for an overcoat, 15 points for shoes, and additional points for bed sheets, towels and other necessary items?" the pastor asked.

He declared that the American service men were welcomed to Australia with open arms, but that money in the hands of the pleasure-seeking Americans served to wear out that welcome in many cases.

The minister assumed the pastorate of the Christian church here last Sunday, coming from an Oakland church.

Many Japanese Families Settle At Airport

Nearly 150 Japanese persons, comprising more than 50 families, were reported last night to be housed within the 16 barracks set aside by the War Relocation Authority for this purpose at the Lomita Flight Strip.

Carpenters, who have been repairing and dividing the barracks into cubicles, continue this work as more families are expected.

These Japanese, it was learned, are all formerly of the Los Angeles area and expect to find housing somewhere within the county.

The families are living the life of the army in many respects, cooking and eating in the mess hall and using the community wash room for their laundering. Some of the families talked to expect to be in places of their own before long. Others are sadly doubtful.

A 24-hour guard will continue to be maintained by the United States Engineering Department to protect government equipment and installations.

Disqualification For Unemployment Insurance Clarified
Under a ruling announced today by Attorney General Robert W. Kenny, a worker is not indefinitely disqualified from obtaining unemployment insurance benefits because he refuses to accept suitable employment offers.

Kenny so informed James G. Bryant, Chief of the Division of Public Employment, today, pointing out that a person who had been so disqualified would only be ineligible to receive the payments for a four-week period. The worker could, however, be disqualified again for another four weeks, but not for an indefinite period.
